So, you're saying the Ad Club isn't just for drinking?

Believe it or not, Ad Club really is a networking organization, and now you can connect with other Ad Club members anytime online through our Facebook and LinkedIn groups. LinkedIn is a great way to build your professional network, and the Ad Club group is the best way to find other advertising professionals here in Richmond. On the Facebook group page, you can find other Ad Club members, post messages to the group and find out about our upcoming events.
